Very worried about pedestrian safety think it's very important not to create dead zones void. I have travelled extensively globally. Empty plazas are the bane of city centers. I love the idea of a way with angle parking. I love the idea of permanent bike parking. I love the idea of single plane plaza with marked driving parking. love the idea of other markets, activities, uses.

Notes/Comments: Read "Social life of Small Urban Spaces"!

- keep grass in center as green "blanket" to provide a break from concrete + pavers
- no shrubs that people will trip over when there's big crowds. Big trees w/ thick palms are great
- grass good for sitting on for concerts, speakers
- use a unifying paver (bricks?) on De la Guerra St. all street around DLG Plz and Storke Placita. (remember for rain)
- add permanent stage for speakers at political rallies (DLG Plz. is our free speech area) and others giving noontime or evening talks, as well as music
- add some benches somewhere
- electricity for speakers and other needs
- allow food trucks for events or a food truck lunch/evening day/night like first Thursday

Notes/Comments:

The Santa Barbara Timeline Mosaic project, artistically presenting the history of Santa Barbara in mosaic, an apt medium for our Spanish style city, would be perfect as an installation along Storke Placita. It would utilize ~ 200 sq ft. of space, could be a 4' by 50' wall, or be incorporated in another design.

What will draw people to DLP when there's NOT F.M.?

No grass - trees - ?
Things for kids to play on?
For adults to eat on or have a "coffee mtg" outdoors?

Why not loosen up EHS rules and allow small concessions.
- Food - shaved ice
Coffee - Hot Dogs?

You won't draw people just by making it look good

Make the street between City Hall and the plaza into a grassy area

Get rid of the whole horse shoe street and put in a lawn or cement areas

Benches and picnic tables so people can enjoy the area more. Nobody likes to stand all the time

A stage with electrical.

Notes/Comments:

DIGITAL INFRASTRUCTURE: Good wireless coverage available to anyone in the Plaza

WATER: Access to water will be useful for farmers market but AVOID a fountain. Given the environmental concern about water a fountain sends the wrong message. Heavy design precedents for Plazas include water so the templates will be great.

PUBLIC ART & MEMORIALS: We live in a time of controversy. I would declare a moratorium on new memorials for 10 years until the pattern of usage and the set of issues is established.

I like Public art about place - inscribe a compass rose on the ground. Trace the outline of history of this place on the ground.

SURFACE: Wet muddy ground keeps people out. A HARD BUT PERMEABLE surface that drains quickly would be best.

Amenities: Families need access to bathrooms. Food Carts and Coffee Carts would be nice but in moderation - this is not a food court

PARKING: eliminate street parking within the Project area. Nothing promotes pedestrian use more than removing the automobile.

MARCH 2019

Notes/Comments:

- ^{interacting} opportunities to engage visitors
 - cannone, chess, other games, bocce
 - historic points of interest noted by outside tile mural - like a treasure hunt
- community events - free lunch concerts (or weekends)
- soft lighting at night - strings of lights over plaza
- opportunities for picnics/games etc when no events or markets, make it engaging for people to spend time
- think Italian (European) plazas
- benches (I know that attracts homeless but not if people are using the space)
