(The project site is located within the El Pueblo Viejo Landmark District, Part 1; within 100 feet of a designated City Landmark eligible for listing on the National Register of Historic Places; and a structure on the City’s Historic Resources List. The project proposes to construct a new three-story residential apartment structure, comprised of 27 apartments applying the City’s Average Unit Density High-Priority Housing Overlay standards. The building is approximately 20,834 net SF and 39'-0" in height. Parking will be provided in a garage structure on the east side of the driveway, using a puzzle lift system to accommodate 19 parking spaces. Six (6) surface parking spaces, including two (2) van accessible/EV stalls are provided on the west side of the driveway for a total of 25 parking spaces. A trash/recycling enclosure structure is proposed on the east side of the driveway, adjacent to the surface parking. The existing commercial office building will remain unchanged.)

Present: Trish Allen, Applicant, SEPPS Inc.; Christine Pierron, Architect, Cearnal Collective; and Allison DeBusk, Senior Planner, City of Santa Barbara

Staff comments:
Ms. Burkhart stated that this is a pre-application returning for a second concept review for the AUD project. AUD projects are required to undergo an initial concept review, in this case by the HLC because the site is located in the El Pueblo Viejo Design District. The project will then go to the Planning Commission. The Planning Commission will comment on the consistency of the project with the General Plan, and the proposed design and improvement of the project. The project will then return to the HLC for a decision. The HLC may use the comments and recommendations from the Planning Commission for deliberations.

Ms. DeBusk stated that parking is not within the HLC’s purview. The project is located in the Central Business District, so the residential units do not require parking and no parking is being proposed. The office parking requirement is one space per 500 square feet. The City has Access and Parking Design Standards that include standards for parking lifts. The project will be reviewed using these City design standards. Some of the standards for parking lifts include maneuverability, loading areas, and types of uses that parking lifts are appropriate for.

Commission comments:

- In general, there are multiple Commissioners that believe this project is going in the right direction. The Commissioners especially appreciate the removal of the fourth floor, the lowering of the plate heights, and the lowering of the mass of the building. The project still needs a lot of finessing, but in general is going in the right direction.
- The applicant shall work with the Santa Barbara Trust for Historic Preservation and look at ways the Community might benefit from the historic resource or be able to access the historic resource.
- Provide more views from various places, like from Santa Barbara Street all the way back, and especially pedestrian views along Santa Barbara Street and Canon Perdido Street.
- For the next meeting, show the adjoining elevations of the neighboring parcels so that the Commission can see the context of the height.
- Multiple Commissioners are concerned with seeing open garages as well as the trash enclosure when coming down Canon Perdido Street. Study the garages and trash enclosure, and look at landscaping and other detailing as a way of screening them.
- The landscaping is appreciated.
- Minimize the stair tower up to the roof on the north elevation. Minimize in all ways in terms of mass, bulk, and scale and visual impact. Restudy the gable and potential hip or other element. There is some concern with the depth of the wall pushed back between the gable and the hip.
- The stone entry element still seems a little awkward and needs to be studied further, consider combining stone and plaster.
- At least a couple of Commissioners agree that the west elevation seems to be the most massive elevation and should be broken up to articulate it. It is currently one large consistent height as proposed.
• Play off the mirador differently and look at providing a different element on the north elevation.
• Look at shifting the building away from the historic resource by a foot or so. Study how those buildings feel adjacent to each other when studying the elevations.

(The project site is located within the El Pueblo Viejo Landmark District, Part 1. The project consists of demolition of the existing parking lot and removal of 15 mature on site Tipuana Tipu trees, and construction of a three- and four-story residential structure with 63 rental units. Parking for the residences would be provided in a combination of surface lot and garage parking. The apartments are proposed as 100% rent controlled moderate (80-120% AMI) and middle (120-160% AMI) income affordable apartments operated by the Housing Authority of the City of Santa Barbara. Modifications are requested for the proposed density and exceeding the 45-foot height limit.)

Commission comments:

- The Commission appreciates that the applicant has looked at the comments from the previous meeting. This is an improved design, especially in terms of mass, bulk, and scale, and in general is supportable.
- The stacking of the Monterey double balcony over the arcade is not yet resolved. The general massing and open air aspect of the elements are successful and help the building feel less massive, but the elements still need more work.
- The stair tower getting up to the roof is still too strong, and as proposed is a tower against another tower. The composition is not there yet.
- The other corner where the project steps up from one to four stories needs more massing work. The composition is too much like stepping stones and needs further refinement.
- Keeping the building away from the freeway is appreciated.
- Regarding parking, the applicant is applauded for being a good neighbor and for caring about the neighbors.
- The landscaping design is very important and in general going in right direction.
- A few Commissioners noted that there may be some quieter and less joggy solutions to look at on the west elevation and Castillo Street elevation.
- In terms of general comments regarding the site plan, the site plan is appropriately sensitive to the neighborhood. The massing is also sensitive. The general relationship to the site is found to be supportable. The architectural and landscaping language in general is supportable.
- The courtyard in general is supportable, and a majority of Commissioner feel that this element can be appropriate for this building.
- The setbacks in general are appropriate in terms of the way the building steps back from street.
